

Product notes and instructions from MP3 Hypnosis Downloads

All products from MP3 Hypnosis Downloads are from nationally certified Hypnotherapists. The content and purpose of each download is different, so please read all product notes carefully.

Many of these downloads contain brainwave entrainment technology that may or may not have a physiological or psychological effect on the user. If you experience any undesirable effects or want to get advice before using these products, please consult your physician.

Using these products is a subjective experience and may be different for different users. These products are sold strictly for entertainment purposes and we do not warrant any performance or effects.

Some tracks work in conjunction with many modern Mind Machines. Please see <http://www.mp3hypnosisdownloads.com> or <http://www.chestercountyhypnosis.com> for more information and ordering info. Photo stimulation may be dangerous for some people and you should consult your physician before use. Users who suffer from epilepsy, mental illness, neurological disorders or heart disease are cautioned that the use of these products can cause health reactions. If you have any adverse reactions, discontinue use immediately and consult your physician.

Our explanations of the product purposes are merely our opinions and your experiences may vary widely.

These products are used solely at your own risk. MP3 Hypnosis Downloads and any and all of its' suppliers, producers, employees, owners, officers cannot be held responsible for your use of these products.

International copyrights apply to all products and infringements will be prosecuted vigorously. Electronic distribution is prohibited.